Focus on Users –
The National Digital Library of Finland

Heli Kautonen

Head of Services, The National Library of Finland

20 July, 2012

Digital Humanities 2012, Hamburg, Germany

Focus on Users –
The National Digital Library of Finland

- Status: Open Development

- Focus on Users

- Finna – The Public Interface of
  the National Digital Library of Finland

Status: Open Development
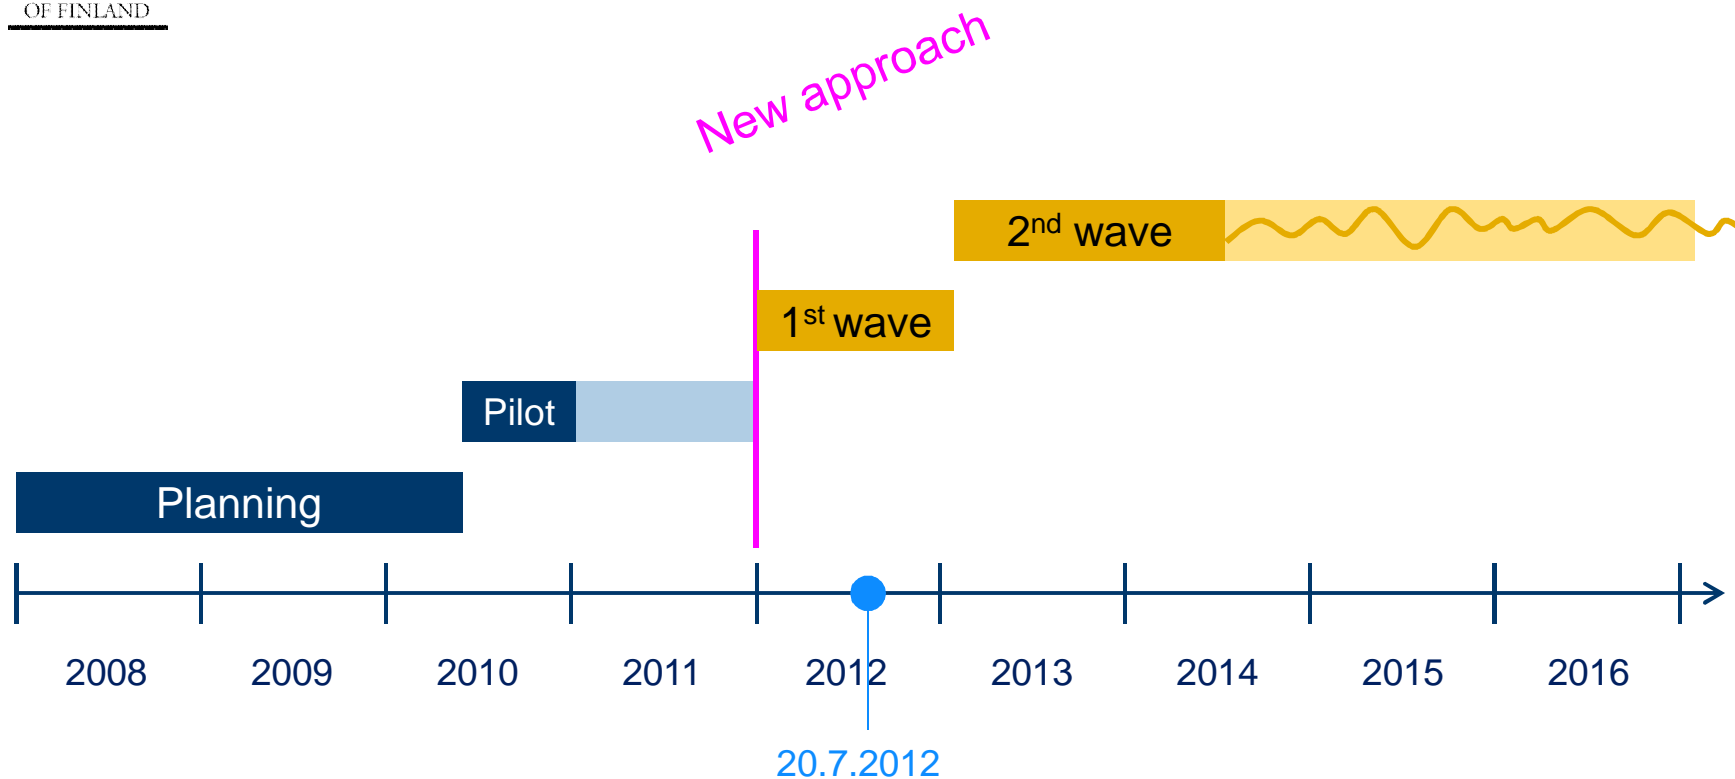

2008–2009   Organization and planning

2010–2011   Piloting with Ex Libris Primo

2012   New approach:

- Open source software

- Iterative and agile development

- Wider and deeper co-operation with the community

By 2013   First organizations in production, over 50 on hold

By 2016   Mature service

New approach

2nd wave

1st wave

Pilot

Planning

2008　2009　2010　2011　2012　2013　2014　2015　2016

20.7.2012

Focus on Users

- Usability Working Group
  - Before: working team
  - Now: community nodepoint
- Usability Plan
  - Before: phases and tasks
  - Now: activity grid
- End-Users
  - Before: target and focus groups
  - Now: clustered involvement

Usability activities

New approach

- 2010: Testing of the service concept

- 2011: User study on end-user interface layouts of the National View

- From 2012 onwards: Agile user tests, consept analyses, log analyses, focused usability evaluation etc.

2008   2009   2010   2011   2012   2013   2014   2015   2016

Finna – The Public Interface of the National Digital Library of Finland

- National infrastructure for ALM (Archives, Libraries, Museums) resource retrieval services

- Access to all Finnish ALM resources via single user interface

- One user interface, several end user views

- All foreseeable resources

kdk.fi/en

heli.kautonen@helsinki.fi

The National Digital
Library